

Empowering communities to be healthy and free of TB and HIV

Communicating the communicable:
establishing relationships between law enforcement and services providing HIV prevention and treatment interventions to key populations in South Africa.